WHEN MOUNTAIN AND VALLEY MEET.....TWO REEL LUBIN

Having tested the fruits of the Valley, Beth, a mountain maid, like Eve of old desires to return again to the forbidden field. Pretending to her mother that she is ill, she returns to the Valley, leaving the snow and the big rough people behind. The mountain man who loved her quietly, but none the less fervently, having brought her down returns to the mountain.

The Valley man learning of her arrival, dropped his other escapades, and bent upon securing Beth for his own.

The Mountain man's instinct leads him straight and true and saves his God-given mate ere she enters the gate from whence there is no returning. And on the morrow a (whether mountain nor valley) the Mountain and Valley meet, and there truth was told and the act was done that prohibited the flowers from overcoming the snow evermore.

The third reel will be:
HEARTS AND FLOWERS.....ESSANAY
An interesting story with FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN and RUTH STONE.
Show starts 8:00 p.m. Admission 5 cents.

To-morrow Tuesday....BEAUTY UNADORNED.....Two Reel Vitagraph Comedy. The parents show up the choice of their children when they deprive them of their false teeth, wigs, etc. With Sidney Drew and Clara Kimball Young.

HOME DESTROYED IN NIGHT FIRE

Disastrous Blaze Sunday Night Near
Two Taverns in which Home
Burns while Family are Returning from Social Call. Little Saved.

Fire completely destroyed the two story stone residence of Charles Shanebrook in Mount Joy township Sunday night about eleven o'clock, together with most of the furniture and all of the clothing and personal effects of the family, except those which they had with them at the time. An overheated stove pipe is given as the probable cause of the blaze.

Mr. and Mrs. Shanebrook and their only child were returning from the home of Irvin Black, a neighbor, when they saw flames and smoke issuing from the upper part of their residence. They hurried as rapidly as possible and succeeded in getting home in time to save the greater part of the furniture from the first floor before the flames became too close.

The neighborhood was aroused by the use of the telephone and about fifty farmers gathered at the scene. By vigorous efforts they succeeded in saving the other buildings.

After the fire had burned itself out, and it was apparent that there was no further danger to the other buildings, Mr. Shanebrook and his family went to the homes of Charles Foulk and Elmer Marsh where they were cared for during the night. Other neighbors were quick to extend their hospitality when the misfortune of Mr. Shanebrook was learned.

Mr. Shanebrook owns the farm, on which he has been living for some years, and he carried insurance on his house. He has made no plans about rebuilding but it is understood that he will put up a new residence as soon as he can make the necessary plans. The farm is located between two Taverns and Barlow and is about one mile from the former place.

OPENING GAME

First Base Ball Games of the Season
Played on Saturday.

The Gettysburg College base ball team opened its season Saturday afternoon on Nixon Field by defeating Baltimore City College 3 to 1. The day was too cold for good base ball but the showing made by the local team was highly gratifying nevertheless. Sherman pitched and was always master of the situation, though he did not exert himself until the latter part of the game. Baltimore's one run was on errors.

The High School played its first game with a foreign team Saturday afternoon on the Prep grounds and lost 15 to 8 to the Frederick High School. In the seventh inning Gettysburg was only one run behind the visitors with the score 8 to 7, but the final inning was disastrous and the Maryland boys galloped away with seven runs.

WANT BETTER RATES

Mountain Resort People Complain
about Telephone Rates.

Citizens of Monterey, Charming and Blue Ridge Summit, Blue Ridge Mountains, have presented to the Public Utilities Commission a petition asking for lower telephone rates. They set forth that they do not have the same telephone advantages as are enjoyed by people in other parts of the country. They can talk free only to the subscribers on their own exchange in the resort section, which numbers during the winter about two dozen. Waynesboro, they allege, has free phone communication with almost every part of Franklin county except the mountain section, and Chambersburg, Greencastle, Mercersburg and other places enjoy like extensive free service.

SPRING TOURIST SEASON OPENED

Personally Conducted Tour of School
Teachers from New York Visits Gettysburg. George H. Putnam
and Elbridge Adams here.

A tourist party conducted under the management of the Marsters agency, visited Gettysburg on Sunday and marked the opening of the tourist season for this spring.

The party was composed largely of school teachers from Brooklyn, Jersey City and New York on their Spring vacation. Saturday was spent in Harrisburg, Sunday and this morning here, and then the tour was resumed to Washington where the teachers will take several days to view the sights of the Capitol City. While here they stopped at Hotel Gettysburg and Holtzworth and Hoffman furnished the teams for the battlefield trip.

Mr. and Mrs. George Haven Putnam, Elbridge Adams, and several friends, of New York City, were visitors in Gettysburg on Sunday. Mr. Putnam is widely known as president of G. P. Putnam's Sons, publishers, of New York City. He is the author of a number of books and papers and a contributor to the Encyclopedia Britannica. The party came here from New York by automobile and left during the afternoon by the Reading for New York. They registered at Hotel Gettysburg.

Mr. Putnam is also Major Putnam, having served with distinction in the Civil War. Sunday's New York Sun contained a full page biography of Gettysburg's distinguished visitor. Major Putnam fully intended being present in Gettysburg at the time of the battle anniversary last summer but his boat was delayed in returning from Europe until he was compelled to forego the Gettysburg trip at that time. Mr. Adams is also a New Yorker of prominence.

Several automobile parties braved the danger of bad roads and the rather chilly atmosphere to visit Gettysburg and the opening of the season could be noticed on the avenues.

This morning Mr. and Mrs. William Prince, of Carlisle, had as their guests for a tour of the field, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Montgomery and children, of Camden, Maine.

RAID RECALLED

Frederick's Claim May Finally be Granted.

Favorable action was taken Saturday by the House War Claims Committee, after a lively struggle on the bill introduced by Representative David J. Lewis, calling for the payment by the federal government to the mayor and aldermen of Frederick, of the old Jubal Early war claim.

This claim was for $200,000 to reimburse Frederick for the ransom levied on that city toward the end of the Civil War by Jubal Early, who commanded the Confederate Army which threatened to burn the town unless the money was paid. The claim has been knocking at the doors of Congress ever since the close of the Civil War. It was reported favorably once, and only once before. That was in 1890 when the Democrats were last in power in the House of Representatives.

NOT HOME

Fear Fatal Result if Mrs. Adams is Brought to her Home.

Surgeons at the Harrisburg Hospital have advised against the removal of Mrs. James Adams to her home near Arendtsville and she will remain at the Harrisburg institution for some time. The surgeons fear that a hemorrhage in the brain might follow any attempt to move her. Miss Virgie Adams went to Harrisburg Sunday and Mr. Adams returned to that city after spending Sunday at his home. The son, John Adams, is still at Harrisburg.

BILLY SUNDAY ON OUR EDDIE PLANK

Points to Gettysburg Boy as Example of the True Athlete. Compares him with the Late Rube Waddell
and Draws his Lesson.

Taking Eddie Plank as the model athlete, "Billy" Sunday preached to an immense audience in the tabernacle at Scranton Saturday night. His subject was "Your Sins Will Find You Out", and he drew a graphic comparison between the lives of the Gettysburg pitcher and Rube Waddell who died last week. In the course of his sermon as given in a Scranton dispatch to the Philadelphia "North American" Sunday said:

"I was reading the papers the other day of the passing of 'Rube' Waddell whose life was snuffed out. Think of it, only 37 and gone. I tell you, you can't beat the booze game. You have to pay the freight. The old 'Rube' was one of the brightest and brainiest men in baseball, but he is gone; struck out at 37, a man who was in his day possibly the greatest pitcher. I tell you, you can't beat that game.

"The 'Rube', Matty, Plank and 'Bugs' Raymond started in baseball at about the same time. All were pitchers. Two started on the wrong road and two on the right road. Two are dead, 'Bugs' and 'Rube.'

"Matty is as good as ever, the king in his line, and when he gets so he can't put anything on the ball, he'll go to work training young pitchers and get a salary that will dazzle you.

"Plank, grand old man, steady and earnest, is getting along, but he can pitch a great game. Yes, he sure can, and Plank and Matty are honored by the men on the field and by men in every walk of life. They followed the right path. 'Rube' and 'Bugs' are dead. Does it pay? Your sins will find you out."

The mention of Plank's name was greeted with cheers and Gettysburg's diamond hero received another demonstration.

SOME FAIR WEATHER

The Weather Bureau's Forecast for the Week.

Fair skies are promised by the Weather Bureau to the Eastern section of the country during the first part of the week, but unsettled conditions, probably with rain or snow, will prevail in the wake of a low pressure that will travel Eastward from the Platteau Region, reaching the seaboard about the middle of the week.

"Fair weather will continue," the forecast said, "probably most of the week in the South. A low pressure area now over the plateau region will move eastward, attended by unsettled weather and local rains or snows in the Rocky Mountain region, the Plains states, and the Missouri Valley on Monday, extending Monday night and Tuesday into the Upper Mississippi Valley and the Upper Lake region, and reaching the Lower Lake region, the Middle and North Atlantic states about the middle of the week. A short period of fair weather will follow, beginning Monday west of the Rocky Mountains, reaching the central portions of the country by the middle of the week and the east a day or so later.

"Another disturbance will probably reach the North Pacific Coast by Tuesday. It will move eastward and south-eastward over the Pacific States and the plateau region, attended by rains over the central and northern districts, and it should reach the central portion of the country some time after the middle of the week.

"Temperatures will rise by Tuesday over the East and South and no unusual temperatures are indicated at present over any section."

FAIRFIELD

Fairfield—The fifth annual commencement of the Fairfield High School was held last Friday evening in the school building, which was crowded to the doors. The building was tastefully decorated with the class colors, orange and blue, and with cut flowers and potted plants. The class motto, "Not by force but by constant effort", occupied a conspicuous place. One of the most pleasing features of the program was the excellent music by the following persons, Mrs. Aaron Musselman, piano; James Musselman and John Davidson violins and D. Clyde Musselman clarinet. The school board has added another year to the High School course here, making it three years instead of two.

D. Hill Rock left on Friday for Philadelphia where he enters the United States mail service in the railway mail department.

WOMAN HELD FOR BLACKMAIL

Accused With Nephew of Demanding Hush Money.

CAUGHT BY DECOY PACKAGE

York, Pa., Physician Received Letters Threatening to Expose His Conduct as Coroner.

Philadelphia, April 6. — Startling charges became public following the arrest by secret service men of a man and a woman here on the charge of blackmail.

The intended victim of the plot was Dr. H. David Smyser, of 1024 North George street, York, Pa., a former coroner of that county.

The authorities showed their hand when Miss Ida Holloway, of 629 Vine street, Philadelphia, was arrested, at the same time that her nephew, Roscoe Holloway, 411 South Court street, was arrested in York, both charged with attempting to defraud Dr. Smyser of $1000.

The arrests were made after a decoy package had been sent to Miss Holloway in Philadelphia. The house in which the woman was arrested had been surrounded by detectives, postal inspectors and secret service men, who closed in as soon as a postman had delivered a package supposed to contain the $1000.

Letters turned over to the postal inspectors and detectives from Philadelphia and York, who have been working on the case since March 24, show that a man and woman had threatened to write to the authorities at York and tell of a death which they declared Dr. Smyser had not reported when he was the coroner of York county, unless he sent a package containing the money to "Miss Stella Jackson," at the Vine street address.

Detectives said the letters which were mailed to the doctor had all been written in York and then sent to Philadelphia to be mailed.

Dispatches from York said the case was a plain one of blackmail and that there was not the slightest suspicion attached to the former coroner. Dr. Smyser has not been the coroner of York county for two years, and never during his term was there at any time any criticism attached to either his public or private life, the dispatches said.

ACCUSE ALMSHOUSE OFFICIALS

Two Girls Bring Charges Against Two County Employees.

Pottsville, Pa., April 6.—Two girls, Viola Haas and May Nannman, employees of the Schuylkill county almshouse, at Schuylkill Haven, have brought charges against two men before Justice C. A. Moyer which may cause an investigation of the institution at the May session of the grand jury.

Justice Moyer refuses to reveal the names of the defendants, who have been held under bail for the criminal court, but it is known that they are former officials, and that one is still employed by the county. The county poor directors have also begun an investigation.

BROTHER'S SKIN SAVES

Grafting of Cuticle Only Salvation For Burned Man.

Fane, Pa., April 6.—Brother love has saved the life of Joseph O'Leary, who was seriously burned in a gas explosion at Roystone, near here.

The surface of the young man's body was so severely burned that the only hope of saving his life was by a skin-grafting operation.

The operation was performed when Dan O'Leary, a brother, provided the skin for the operation, which was successfully performed by Doctors Robertson, of Warren, and Hyer, of Clarendon, Pa.

British Baronet Killed.

London, April 6.—Sir John Shiffner, fifth baronet, who succeeded his father in 1905, was accidentally killed by the discharge of a gun at his home in Sussex. Sir John was cleaning a gun which he wished to have ready for his sons, who were expected home from school in a few days for the Easter vacation, when the weapon was discharged and he was instantly killed.

BRIDGE GIVES WAY; CARS FALL IN RIVER

Three Killed and Many Injured in Train Wreck.

Attica, Ind., April 6. — Three persons were killed and about thirty-five others injured, some seriously, when the Wabash passenger train No. 4, known as the Continental Limited, was wrecked when the bridge over the Wabash river, just west of Attica, gave way. The engine, a baggage car and the day coach dropped into the water.

When the cars left the bridge the day coach, which was crowded, fell with the rear end out of the water, and though the majority of the injured were in this car, none of them was killed.

The car hardly had settled in the water before the work of rescuing the passengers was commenced, and in a few minutes all had been taken out of the wreckage.

The railroad's bridge over the Wabash river was weakened when a freight train was wrecked upon the structure, and the Continental Limited was stopped on the west side when it reached the place.

The train crept out on the bridge slowly, and when about a hundred feet out upon the structure the bridge gave way beneath the weight of the train. The engineer was caught under his engine and crushed to death. The fireman, who jumped, was scalded to death, and when the front end of the baggage car was toppled downward the baggage master was crushed beneath an avalanche of trunks.

WOULD CONSOLE ORPHAN

Many Girls Propose Marriage to Young Man Who Inherits $50,000.

Pottstown, Pa., April 6.—Stories of the $50,000 inherited by Frank Buschhaus, eighteen years old, of near Harmonyville, Chester county, who lost his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Buschhaus, recently, have brought many notes from tender to male hearts, in which the writers make proposals of marriage to relieve the loneliness of the bereaved young man.

The girls depict themselves as excellent cooks and companions. They all promise to try to help cheer his pathway through life.

The young man, who lost his parents because of poisonous blood tonic, believes the girls are after his money. By the will of the departed parents he is the sole heir to a fortune of over $50,000.

MAN FIGHTS FOR LIFE WITH BEAR

Zoo Keeper Attacked and Bitten by Angry Brute.

AID ARRIVES JUST IN TIME

Animal Mangles His Arm and Thigh and Is Beaten Off by Attendant With a Shovel.

Philadelphia, April 6. — A savage bear, "Doc," rushed upon Thomas Preater, a keeper in the Zoological Gardens, Fairmount Park, and bit and scratched his arm, severely bit his right leg and would have killed him had not Julius Dages, another keeper, come to the rescue.

Preater fought desperately with the infuriated animal, crying at the top of his voice for help. When Dages arrived the keeper's strength was almost exhausted. Preater is in the hospital, where he will have to remain for at least a week.

Preater, who had been working in the cage, just as he reached the door heard an angry roar, and before he could turn Doc's claws and teeth were sunk in his right arm. Preater shouted for help and threw his free arm around the animal, and at the same time began kicking it in the abdomen. Doc withdrew his teeth from Preater's arm and closed his jaws upon the right thigh of the keeper time and again before Dages arrived.

Dages found a shovel, and with this he beat Doc until he fookook the fight and fled back to his den. The injured man was dragged from the cage and an ambulance was summoned, which took Preater to the hospital.

The cause of Doc's rage is unknown. Never before had he displayed his temper against a human being; never had he attacked any one; he was not even quarrelsome with his kind.

Preater and Dages both assert that nothing that could offend the bear was done when they were in his den a few minutes before the attack.

High School Principals, Superintendents and Others Invited to Attend.

Philadelphia, April 6.—The week of April 20 to April 25 will be schoolmen's week at the University of Pennsylvania.

Provost Smith has sent out invitations to all superintendents and principals of Pennsylvania schools, representatives of boards of education, normal school principals and teachers of education in normal schools and colleges to a series of lectures, consultations and conferences on school work arranged for the week beginning Monday, April 20.

From 9 to 10 o'clock each morning opportunity will be afforded to visit university classes with a view to familiarizing superintendents and high school principals with the type of work required of high school graduates who enter college.

Schoolmen who decide to accept the university's invitation have been asked to communicate with Professor A. Duncan Yocum, College Hall, University of Pennsylvania, for general information.

KILLED IN A SAW MILL

Young Man, Recently Made Partner, Victim of Accident.

Federalburg, Md., April 6.—Harley Coulborn, twenty-one years of age, was killed in his father's saw mill near Wheatley's camp ground.

The young man was operating one of the saws when a piece of scantling he was feeding through flew backward, striking him in the head and crushing his skull.

Doctors were summoned, but the young man was dead when they arrived. Young Coulborn was recently taken into partnership by his father, John W. Coulborn, in the saw mill business.

Mill Girls Maul Suffragettes.

Cork, April 6.—The girls working in the flax mills at Blackpool, this county, mauled a crowd of militant suffragettes who were attempting to do some proselyting to the cause. The girls tore off the hats and coats of the suffragettes and hustled them around in lively fashion. The militants were punched, pinched and scratched and were finally chased away from the mills.

Victim of March Hot Wave Dies.

Pottsville, Pa., April 6.—George A. Klare, a letter carrier, who was stricken with the heat while delivering mail during the sudden hot wave in March, which lasted but one day, died from the effects of the stroke. He had been only partly conscious since being stricken. Klare had a weak heart and was obliged to use caution during hot weather, but did not think it necessary to do so in March.

Ghost-Seeing Cop Loses Job.

Lyndhurst, N. J., April 6.—Because he insisted he saw a ghost, Robert Ringwood, a policeman, is off the force. It so frightened him he could not "ring in" from a box. Instead of telephoning Ringwood rushed to the police station and told the story. He was sober and said he had never seen a ghost before. Chief McIntyre suspended him.

REBELS TRAP. FLEEING FEDERALS

Velasco's Men Making Last Stand at San Pedro.

BURNING BODIES OF DEAD

General Villa Says His Army Will March Toward Saltillo in Two Weeks.

Torreon, April 6. — While General Villa personally supervised the burning of the dead in Torreon and vicinity, following the eleven days' siege ending in victory for his rebel troops, General Hernandez is surrounding the fleeing General Velasco and the remnants of his Federal defenders at San Pedro, a little town twenty-eight miles east of Torreon.

At San Pedro General Velasco is making his last desperate stand. It is reported that Velasco still has 300 soldiers with him, and Villa was considering ordering Hernandez to postpone attacking Velasco at San Pedro until reinforcements could be sent to him. Hernandez has considerably less men than Velasco.

Villa ordered the best of care possible under the circumstances for the 200 wounded Federals in the hospital in Torreon. When Velasco's army fled all but one hospital nurse went with him. The report that Velasco himself was wounded or that he went insane is not confirmed.

The report that Villa is immediately pressing toward Saltillo, Monterrey and even Mexico City is not true, Villa said.

"I don't expect to press toward Saltillo inside of two weeks. By that time my men will have recovered from the Torreon campaign, our equipment will be repaired and everything made in first-class shape for further victories."

Stories of insults to the American flag seem to be unfounded. These reports undoubtedly were perpetrated by Federal soldiers when they were still in the city. They claimed there were a large number of American soldiers in Villa's army, and that because they were fighting Americans they had a right to insult the flag. As a matter of fact, there are only nine Americans in Villa's army. None of them was killed or wounded.

Of Velasco's garrison of 5000 men, fully 1500 were killed or wounded. The number of killed and wounded on the rebel side is still in doubt.

Blame U. S. For Rebel Victory.

Mexico City, Mex., April 6.—There is ill-concealed resentment among the business men and financiers in this city against the Washington attitude toward the rebels, they holding that because of this attitude the internal troubles of Mexico have been prolonged.

The success of the rebels is also blamed on Washington, because had President Wilson recognized Huerta, they believe the rebels would not have made such a success of the present revolution.

In diplomatic and the best informed financial circles the impression prevails that the victory of Villa at Torreon means the first important step toward American intervention in Mexico.

WIFE SAYS LAST RITES

Pays Verbal Tribute and Buries Side Spouse in Coffin He Made.

Montgomery, Mo., April 6. — The preacher failing to arrive on account of the bad roads, Mrs. Nicholas Dabone, chief and only mourner, delivered the funeral oration over the body of her husband, who killed himself a few days ago at Danville.

She gave old age and poor health as the reason for his taking his life, and said she could not see him put away without some remarks being made over his body.

She paid a tribute to his fidelity to her, and said she believed God would forgive him for his sins for Christ's sake. She thought his mind was not right. He was buried in a coffin he had made himself.

Dynamite Refused to Explode.

Bath, Pa., April 6.—This town had a narrow escape from being blown off the map when a carload of dynamite was wrecked at the switch south of here. The force of the collision caused the freight car to fall completely to pieces and scatter the dynamite, yet not one stick exploded.

Truck Crushes Life Out of Child.

Trenton, April 6.—Lewis, the two-and-a-half-year-old son of Edward Connor, was crushed to death by a truck of the Muschert-Reeves company. His playmates say that the little fellow attempted to run between the wheels of the big truck while it was in motion.

Taft to Honor Memory of Aide.

Augusta, Ga., April 6.—William H. Taft will be the principal speaker at the dedication here of a memorial bridge to Major Archibald Butt, April 14, the second anniversary of Major Butt's death in the Titanic disaster.

Child Dies of Scalds.

Philadelphia, April 6.—Three-year-old William Carpenter died in the West Philadelphia Homeopathic hospital as a result of a severe scalding, suffered when in his mother's absence he tumbled into a tub of hot water.

MILLIONS OF TREES

State Forestry Authorities Plan a Big Replanting of Seedlings.

Over three and a half million seedling trees will be planted on the hillsides of Pennsylvania's forest reserves this year according to a statement made by Robert S. Conklin, State Forestry commissioner.

This work was authorized by the State Forestry Commission at its meeting last week and will be started within a few days. The exact number of seedlings to be set out is 3,557,000, of which all but 510,000 were raised on the State nurseries. The trees to be set out on the public domain will include white, red and yellow pine, European larch, Norway spruce, black walnut, black cherry, sugar maple, etc., elm, honey locust and sycamore together with basket willows which will be planted along streams.

In addition 85,000 seedlings will be set out for twenty-one individuals, this being done by the State in its forest conservation work. These trees will be planted in various counties, the applications for the trees having been approved last week.

Over 100 applications for auxiliary forest reserves have been filed and will be examined as soon as the weather permits.

this trying season and do your work.
You may be overworked or have had a bad cold which has left you without strength, ambition or much interest in life; in fact you are all run-down.
Let us tell you that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, is just the remedy you need to rebuild wasting tissues and replace weakness with strength.
"A prominent Boston lawyer says:
"My mother, who is 76 years of age, owes her good health to Vinol as since taking it she can walk farther and do more than she has for years.
I consider it a wonderful blood making and strength creating tonic."
We have such faith in Vinol that if it does not quickly build you up, restore your strength and make you feel well again, we will return your money.

THE TOWN MARKET
The modern successor to the old Town Market are the advertising columns of the daily newspaper.
They are as much an improvement on the old system as the news columns are an advance
over the Town-Crier.
Wise people nowadays consult the advertising in their newspaper before they purchase.
It saves time and money.
It is economy and convenience
in the best sense of the word.
Advertising has become a fixed factor in the science of do-

DON'T GROW BALD
Use Parisian Sage.
If your hair is getting thin, losing its natural color, or has that matted,
lifeless and scraggy appearance,
the reason is evident—dandruff and failure to keep the hair roots properly nourished.
Parisian Sage applied daily for a week and then occasionally all that is needed. It removes dandruff with one application; almost immediately stops falling hair and itching head; invigorates the scalp and makes dull, stringy hair soft, abundant and radiant with life. Equally good for men, women or children—every one needs it.
A large bottle of this delightful hair tonic can be had from People's Drug Store or any drug counter for 50 cents. You will surely like Parisian Sage. There is no other "Just-as-

Old French Recipe
Beautifully Darkens
Gray or Faded Hair
Ladies are Jubilant Now, that druggists can supply it.
It's wonderful—this Old French hair restorer; just what thousands have been looking for. It is absolutely guaranteed to restore gray or faded hair to its natural color, or money back.
LeMay's Cream of Sage and Quinine is a scientific preparation that quickly darkens the hair without screaking; that eradicates dandruff
and stops falling hair speedily.
Ask for this remarkable old French restorer by name. LeMay's Cream of Sage and Quinine, a large bottle can be obtained for 50c. It is not a dye, contains no lead; but women have discovered that it not only beautifully colors hair and brings back its youthful beauty, but, being a luxurious tonic, it causes the hair to grow lovely and in abundance.

Her Little Knowledge.
The lady was reading a nautical novel. She struggled along bravely for a few minutes, but finally had to appeal to her husband. "Gerald," she said, "the author says that the boat was sailing 'wing and wing.' What does that mean? I've been on a yacht, but I never heard that before."
"That means," answered Gerald, rejoicing in the fact that he, too, had spent several hours on a sailing vessel, "that means that the schooner had her mains'l out to port and her fores'l
out to starboard—or vice versa." "Oh,
I see!" cried the lady. "It's just like a chicken—a wing on each side. And now I understand why they call those little sails in the middle 'jibs.' It's short for 'giblets' of course. Isn't sailing interesting?"

Market for Suckers.
Maine fishermen are finding that the once despised sucker, now known by the more aristocratic name of frost fish, is having a market value for something besides smelt bait. Tons of them are being caught in Maine
waters and shipped to the New York market, where they are bringing 13 and 14 cents a pound. Years ago the fishermen when finding these fish in smelt or bass nets used to throw them on the ice or overboard, as they had no market value.

FASHION PARADE AT SHORE
60,000 Persons in Palm Sunday Promenade in Atlantic City.
Atlantic City, N. J., April 6.—Sixty thousand persons at one time or another yesterday participated in the Palm Sunday fashion parade on the Boardwalk here.
Gayer hats and gowns never before were seen here. Many of the styles shown only in the fashion pages of the magazines and newspapers made their appearance, and if there was one skill-let hat there were 5000, and if there was one string of beads there were 30,000.
Every woman in the throng wore heads—heads of all colors, shapes and sizes. Just when and where the head craze started and how long it has existed is hard to tell, but it seemed that every woman in Atlantic City had suddenly concluded that her costume was not complete without a string of beads.

FOR A DRY NAVY
Orders Forbid Use of Liquor on Vessels or In Navy Yards.
Washington, April 6.—A dry navy is to take the place as the right arm of grape juice diplomacy in the scheme of the Wilson administration.
Secretary of the Navy Daniels has signed an order which absolutely prohibits the use or introduction of alcoholic liquors on any vessel of the navy
or within the confines of any navy yard or shore station.
This order will be issued to the service at once and will become effective on July 1, 1914.

TOWN OFFERS CASH
BONUS FOR BABIES
Harrisville, W. Va., Makes
Unique Proposition.
Harrisville, W. Va., April 6.—With surplus funds rapidly accumulating,
this burg of 800 inhabitants, world famous as the "taxless town," is becoming so wealthy through its ownership of gas and oil properties that the mayor, backed by council, has decided to offer a snug sum as a bonus for every baby born in Harrisville.
In his statement announcing his decision the mayor says that "it is the desire of the populace that future generations may participate in the dividends of the most prosperous municipality in the world."

Used Billy Sunday to CHECK SUICIDE WAVE
Was Engaged by Provost Smith
to Speak at U. of P.
Philadelphia, April 6.—Provost Edgar Fals Smith's purpose in having
"Billy" Sunday address the students at the University of Pennsylvania was to put an end to the possibility of more suicides at that institution.
This was the declaration made by Provost Smith in an interview. Since the first of the student suicides Provost Smith had been trying to decide what could be done to check the suicidal impulse that seemed to spread among the young men at the university.
He decided that if the minds of the youths, depressed because of scholastic failure or for other reasons, could be diverted to things spiritual, their melancholy would have its outlet in religious expression rather than in self-destruction.
Accordingly he asked "Billy" Sunday to come to the university and speak to the students. The results of Sunday's shirt sleeves evangelism exceeded
what Provost Smith had hoped for,
and he is confident now that those young men who considered their world lighted now gaze out on the roseate
dawn of contentment.
The fervor shown by the students
at meetings addressed by "Billy" Sunday is taken by Dr. Smith as an indication that there has been a religious awakening at the university. Bible classes are being organized in all departments of the institution. The fraternities are inaugurating classes for the study of the scripture. For all this Provost Smith gives the credit to the Rev. Sunday.

BURY DOG WITH MASTER
Last Request of Dying Man is Carried Out.
Metuchen, N. J., April 6.—"When I die I want my dog chloroformed and buried with me," reads a clause, it is alleged, in the will of Henry Cartwright, who died here on Thursday morning.
According to the requests of the deceased the dog has been killed and it is believed now rests in the casket
with his master's body.
Although Undertaker Pettit acknowledges that the dog was chloroformed he denies it was interred with the man. However, it is generally believed that the request of Cartwright was observed. Cartwright had no known relatives.

Runs Away and Blames Woman.
Easton, Pa., April 6.—Alva Johnson,
a beekeeper for the United Furniture company, is missing and his accounts are said to be short $1500. The police traced him to Philadelphia and then to Baltimore. Johnson left a note for his employers, blaming his downfall
on an Easton woman, whom he named.

Finds Her Stolen Gold Buried.
Hagerstown, Md., April 6.—While digging dandelions near her home, at Chewsville, Mrs. H. Clinton Delbert found a cartridge box containing a $20 gold piece that had been missing
from her home since last September,
when her house was robbed.

Health Test For Push Cart Venders.
New York, April 6.—All applicants for push cart licenses hereafter will be examined by physicians of the department of health, and sufferers from tuberculosis will not be permitted to deal on the streets in goods that can become contaminated.

J. Gordon Bennett Better.
Cairo, April 6.—The official bulletin
from physicians attending James Gordon Bennett, the New York publisher, says he is "progressing favorably."
Mr. Bennett is still confined to his apartment.

New York, April 6.—A verdict awarding $50,000 to Matt Yurionis for the loss of both his eyes, was returned in the United States district court in Brooklyn against the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad.
This is said to be the largest verdict ever obtained in New York state for an injured workman. Yurionis was working in the railroad company's Pettibone coal mine at Luzerne, Pa., when he was injured by the explosion
of a squib of fuse in a powder hole.

The KITCHEN
CUPBOARD
WITH A CUP OF COFFEE.
MANY dainty and wholesome desserts may be made with coffee.
Cold coffee, the cupful that is left from breakfast or dinner, may be utilized for this purpose. When putting it away for use in the next day's dessert strain off the grounds and put it in a covered vessel to keep.
Coffee Blancmange.—Take a cupful each of milk and coffee and boil with two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Thicken with two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch rubbed smooth in a little cold milk.
Pour in mold and serve with cream.

Two Dainty Desserts.
Coffee Custard.—To a cupful of very strong coffee add a cupful of thin cream, four beaten eggs, half a cupful of sugar and one-half saltspoonful of selt. Strain into small buttered cups, stand them in a pan of boiling water
and bake in a moderate oven until firm in the center. Serve ice cold.
Coffee Mousse.—Take one pint of cream and whip it very stiff; then take one or one and one-half cupfuls of coffee.
Have your coffee cold, mix with a cupful of sugar; then beat separately three egg yolks and one whole egg. Mix with coffee and sugar; then stir in your cream. Mix it all well; then turn into a hard pan. Freeze, pack in ice cream
rub. You can pack it in any tub that is deep enough to cover the pan with ice. Have a hole in the side of the tub for water to run out. Use plenty of coarse salt, cover the top of pan with ice and salt; then spread heavy cover over that. Let it stand five or six hours.
Delicious Pastry.

Coffee eclairs.—Pour a quarter of a pint of water into a saucepan with one ounce of butter and as soon as the water boils stir in two ounces of dry flour
which has been passed through a sieve.
Do not stop stirring until a thick smooth paste is formed. Take the saucepan from the stove and when the paste has cooled a little add first one egg yolk and then a second, beating each thoroughly into the other ingredients; then stir in half a tablespoonful of sugar, a few drops of vanilla essence and lastly the white of one egg whisked to a stiff froth. Turn the paste on to a floured board and divide it into small pieces. Form these into "fingers," place them on a buttered baking sheet and bake in a moderate oven from a quarter of an hour to twenty minutes. When done let the eclairs cool on a rack; then carefully slit them down one side, scoop out a little of the soft part and fill them with whipped cream flavored with vanilla and when all are ready cover them with a layer of coffee icing.

Colored Glasses.
Wearing spectacles to protect the eyes from the glare of the sun is a very old custom. The natives of the far northern regions long ago invented spectacles of wood with a very narrow slit in the center to diminish as far as possible the continual glare of the long arctic day. It is said that the Emperor Nero, who was an albino and whose eyes were therefore very sensitive to light, used amethysts or emeralds to shield his eyes.

His Preference.
"Good gracious," exclaimed a vicar
as he met a village laborer wearily pulling a loaded wheelbarrow. "It would be much easier if you pushed it."
"Daresay," was the answer, "but I'm sick of the very sight of it."—London Telegraph.

His Weight.
"What is the way of the transgressor?" asked the boob.

Well, It's Suspended.
"Pop, tell me one thing."
"What is it, my son?"
"Is a suspended sentence a hanging matter?"—Baltimore American.
A good lookout drives all luck away.

Monkey "Caught On."
Darwin describes a trick played on a monkey to show its intelligence.
Lumps of sugar wrapped in paper were first given to him. They for sugar a live wasp was substituted, but after meeting with an unpleasant experience from the wasp the monkey put the next package to his ear to learn if it might be safely opened. This action showed that the monkey had memory and considerable wisdom and had discovered that a wasp buzzes when wrapped in paper.—Youth's Compan-

Tax on Bachelors Over Twenty-Four.
At the last sitting of the town council of Nagyterek, Hungary, it was decided almost unanimously to introduce a special tax on bachelors over twenty-four. The amount is to vary between 20 pence and £4 according to the pecuniary circumstances of each unmarried man. The proceeds will be entirely devoted to the foundation and maintenance of an asylum for poor homeless children.

Uncle Sam "Sizes Up" Employees.
The United States navy yard per-

Uncle Sam goes wrong, but his lapses are comparatively few. He usually sizes up his man at the outset.

An Old Recipe To Darken Hair
Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

AFTER A TRANSFUSION OF BLOOD

By DONALD CHAMBERLIN

John Runlet was a fine, sturdy fellow until he fell ill with impoverishment of the blood. He was a fine swimmer, skater, boxer, fencer, a champion in tennis and one of the best ball twirlers in the country. But when sickness overcame him he lost his strength and even his life was in danger.

Drs. Hammersly and Phipps, his physicians, consulted on his case and came to the conclusion that they had better resort to transfusion of blood. It was not easy to find one who was willing to give up sufficient blood to fill Jack Runlet's veins, for they were of no ordinary capacity, but several persons volunteered to give each a portion, and in this way the whole was obtained. Runlet was a favorite among women, and two of his sweethearts responded to the call, though neither knew of the offer of the other. Two men, Jack's most intimate friends, offered to give their quantum of blood, and after the four transfusions were effected the patient had in him the blood drawn from two women and two men.

Maud Scarborough and Della Thorne were the women and Ned Summerfield and George Smith the men. The operators would have preferred that the blood should be transfused in a mixed state. This was because they expected the patient would be affected by the peculiarities of the persons from whom it came, and it would be better that these traits should in a measure neutralize one another. But the operations must be performed separately.

Runlet became well again, thanks to these devoted friends, but not himself. There was very little of his own blood left in him--indeed, he was four other persons in turn. When the blood of one of the women was sent out from his heart he was much like that woman, and since only half of him was man he was manly but half of the time.

When he regained his health and strength the baseball season was opening, and he resumed his position as pitcher, but he was found to be unreliable. At times he had his usual strength, while at others he seemed to have lost it, both of will and muscle. He concealed his weakness as well as he could, but it was unfortunate that he did so. It would have been better for him to retire. When a match game of great importance was being played a frightened mouse ran across the diamond. Doubtless the blood of one of the women with which his arteries were filled was at the moment being sent through his system, for he became paralyzed with fear. Running to the grand stand, he stood upon one of the plank seats and could not be induced to come down.

But few of those present knew the cause of Runlet's cowardice, though none could understand why a man should be afraid of a mouse. At any rate, the game was broken up, for Runlet, covered by shame, left the field. The next day he went to his doctors to learn what was the matter with him. They looked at each other knowingly, but thought it best that he should not be enlightened. So to get rid of him they told him he needed rest.

The next time a game of importance came off Runlet took his place among the spectators instead of in the box. He had doubtless been under the influence of the blood he had received from one of his women contributors, for he had nearly all that day been acting effeminately. He had been very particular about his clothes, putting on a particolored scarf with a diamond stickpin in it, and had purloined all his sister's rings, which he put on his fingers. He went to the baseball match with a lady's fan in his hand and while waiting for the game to begin alternately fanned himself and sniffed at a bunch of violets pinned to his shirt bosom.

Not a man of his old chums would speak to him. They remembered his desertion of his post at a former game, and now to see him sitting bedizened with jewelry, swinging a fan and sniffing at flowers excited their full contempt. As for the women spectators, they were very much amused at his actions.

Runlet's club had not found a pitcher to take his place. It lost steadily, and by the end of the fifth inning all hope of winning the game left them.

It is a disputed point what caused a sudden throwing off of Runlet's femininity. The doctors who transfused the blood into him contend that a quantum of woman's blood, which had been thrown through the heart, suddenly gave place to that of a man. Be this as it may, Jack Runlet, bedizened as he was, vaulted the rail that separated him from the field, jumped down into the diamond and demanded the ball. A shout arose with cries of "Try him again!" "Give it to him!" and the like. Some one tossed the ball to him, and by a succession of remarkable curves he put out every one who attempted to handle the bat from then to the end of the ninth inning, winning the game handsomely.

The doctors are now consulting how to get him back to the unbroken masculine condition he was in before it became necessary to put new blood in him. Dr. Hammersly has suggested letting out blood whenever he is effeminate, supplying the deficiency with that of a sturdy man. This will doubtless be done.

All Buried at Public Expense.

In some cantons of Switzerland all the dead, rich as well as poor, are buried at the public expense.

(This matter must not be reprinted without special permission.)

One bad egg in a dozen sent to market naturally spoils a customer's taste for eggs, and is said to reduce sales of eggs in his case from 15 to 20 per cent.

To produce eggs of the best quality hens must be provided with an abundance of wholesome food, including grains, bran, clover or alfalfa and oyster shells.

Experiments which have been made by a good many dairymen prove beyond doubt that the more quickly a cow is milked the larger will be the per cent of butter fat that her milk will contain.

The sight of a horse tied to a town hitching post and shivering with the mercury close to the zero mark is not calculated to inspire regard for either the humanity or good sense of the owner.

In far too many instances it is those farmers who would be most benefited by the discussions at the farmers' institute who fail to attend because they are too busy or because they don't consider the deliberations of such meetings practical and worth while.

What is said to be the highest price ever paid for a single apple tree was recently paid to an Oregon farmer for a thirteen-year-old seedling which grew in a fence corner on his farm. The worth of the tree lies in the fact that it yields ripe apples every month from May to November.

Let the girls try this recipe for homemade peppermint candy: Into a saucepan put a pound of granulated sugar and a gill of boiling water and as soon as the sugar is dissolved add a tablespoonful of vinegar. Boil until a little becomes brittle in cold water, add peppermint essence to taste and drop by the spoonful on buttered or waxed paper. Candy of this kind is both inexpensive and wholesome.

A walnut tree sold the other day in a middle western state for $250. By contrast this brings to mind the conditions a generation ago when the walnut was not prized so highly and when it was often cut into firewood for the kitchen stove and sitting room heater. The giant walnut of that day is gone, along with the Indian and buffalo. Two comrades that with it enjoyed untroubled freedom before the white man's westward march.

That was a fine type of spunk displayed by a Miss Lovejoy of Texas, who has recently proved up on a homestead claim in New Mexico. In order to get a patent to the ranch from the government she lived alone in a two room shack on her claim for fourteen months. She was sixty-five miles from a railroad and twenty-five miles from a town, while her nearest neighbor was two miles away. She hunted rabbits and took rides muleback for pastime.

There is said to be but one small section in the United States where Easter lilies will grow profusely and blossom at Easter time. This is Las Palmas, a few miles below Brownsville, Tex., the southernmost town in the country. As a result of interest taken in the matter by H. G. Stiles, horticultural expert of Texas, it is likely that the federal government may establish a national park at Las Palmas, where Easter lilies and other tropical plants may be grown.

A plant closely resembling the dandelion that was imported to southern Minnesota from Germany some thirty years ago on the strength of the claim that it was a sure cure for tuberculosis bids fair to become a serious pest unless it is exterminated. It has spread over the eighty acre farm on which it was first grown and may readily spread to adjoining land, as its seeds are winged like those of the dandelion and are readily scattered by the wind. Farmers are urged to guard against the pest and are urged to send specimens to the state experiment station for identification.

There are times when feeding hogs a good tonic for a period will help them a good deal and make it possible for them to make a profitable gain in flesh. There are several tonics on the market that answer this purpose well. For those who prefer the homemade article the following recipe is recommended by the United States government: Wood charcoal, two pounds; sulphur, one pound; common salt, two pounds; sodium carbonate, two pounds; sodium hypophosphate, two pounds; sodium sulphate, one pound, and antimony sulphide, one pound. These ingredients should be powdered and mixed and given at the rate of a large tablespoonful once a day for each 200 pounds of hog weight.
